Don't worry you are not too late to move up in the point standings, or perhaps qualify for the Championship Horse Show.

The 2026 show season for the ECTB League started
April 1st and continues through November 1st.
There are still two horse shows remaining on the 2026 calendar, perhaps you can still qualify for the ECTB Championships.

Welcome to the inaugural championships for the East Coast Thoroughbred League!

The East Coast Thoroughbred is proud to present a championship horse show with a qualifying format, inviting members to enjoy a horse show which is exclusively for the "classic horse for a classic sport" - the Thoroughbred!

Members of the ECTB have been showing all throughout the show season which started in March and concluded in the beginning of November. Now the ECTB invites everyone to culminate the show season with a championship where your Thoroughbred is truly appreciated and showcased! The entire weekend will be dedicated to great competition providing recognition in a championship showcase format. Come join in!

QUALIFYING PROCESS

- Horses must be members of the ECTB, and have been showing in the ECTB League throughout the show season.
- Horses are eligible for this Championship as ranked in the top 20 in each ECTB class/division, based on ECTB member horse shows from April 1st through November 1st, 2026.
- Management reserves the right to invite additional qualified horses to compete based on total entry numbers. A wait list will be created as necessary to keep interested entries on standby for acceptance. If you are in doubt, make and entry and if your horse is not accepted you will receive a full refund.

See the league website www.ectbleague for qualifying lists.
Please text to JR McCaulley at (215)-399-6053
for inquiries regarding the qualifying process and your horse's eligibility.

A few important parameters of the ECTB League:

- Use of any medications, supplements, substances or treatments outside of USEF Rules is prohibited.
- Management has designated a steward or point person for the show. Should questions arise from exhibitors, judges or show managers, the steward or the designated point person shall discuss the situation with all parties involved and come to a fair resolution which shall be final. The judge must be made aware of the assignment of the person designated to be steward or point person.
- A horse is limited to no more than eight (8) performance classes per show day. In-hand and leadline classes do not count towards this limit.
- All hunter and equitation classes, particularly those below 2'6", should reward rhythm, control and way of going over length of stride.
- Simple changes of lead will not be penalized in any hunter or equitation classes below 2'6".
- Two refusals will incur elimination from a class.
- Braiding for all divisions to be optional. Well kept, unbraided manes and tails in hunter/equitation divisions will not be looked down upon.
